

GARZA HELD AT BAY

He is Surrounded by Troops on all Sides.

HIS CAPTURE SEEMS CERTAIN

Mexican and Federal Troops Units to Catch Him—Rumored Interview with the Outlaw.

LAREDO, Tex., Jan. 4.—United States soldiers and Texas rangers are reported to have Garza surrounded in the extreme northwestern part of Zapata county. If this is the case Garza is hemmed in on all sides and it will be impossible for him to turn in any direction.

More Fighting.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 4.—There is much excitement in military department headquarters and among the people of this city over the serious situation on the border. H. J. MacNeil, of this city, Saturday evening received a telegram from his father, Capt. J. S. MacNeil, of the Texas rangers, which states that he had just had a desperate encounter with the Garza men. His command numbered only a few men. They were scouting through a chaparral in Starr county when they met a detachment of about thirty Garza revolutionists.

Hundreds of Shots Fired.

The rangers at once opened fire on the revolutionists and a number of the latter were severely wounded. Nearly 1,000 shots were exchanged, but none of the rangers were wounded. The telegram states that the revolutionists were all well armed and well mounted. They were closely pursued by the rangers for a considerable distance, but finally scattered and all escaped capture except a few of those severely wounded.

Five Rangers Killed.

It is reported from Laredo that five Texas rangers were killed Friday in a fight with the revolutionists. The rangers reported to have been in the engagement left Laredo a few days ago to scout through brush in lower Rio Grande county for Garza men. From the report in circulation it seems that the rangers located a squad of the troublesome revolutionists and made an attempt to capture them. The Garza men were prepared and gave fight, the result of which was as above stated. If the revolutionists suffered any loss it is not reported.

Another Fight.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 4.—A dispatch to government headquarters reports that on Saturday Second Lieut. Langhorne of the Third cavalry, with thirty regulars and a posse of deputy marshals, struck one of the Garza bands and an engagement followed. The bandits were found 5 miles above Rio Grande City and many shots were interchanged and some Mexicans wounded and some of the United States soldiers were hurt. Col. Pablo Munoz was captured. Two gross of cartridges and many revolutionary badges were taken. Private Walker is especially mentioned for bravery. Juan Antonio Flores, a follower of Garza in Nuevo Leon, Mex., has issued another proclamation calling upon all patriotic Mexicans to take up arms with Garza and assist in overthrowing Diaz and restoring the constitution.

A Talk with Garza.

LAREDO, Tex., Jan. 4.—Catarina Garza, revolutionist and leader of the revolutionists, a big and soldierly-looking man, has granted a correspondent an interview. He explained his aims and the reasons leading up to the formation of the band of freebooters which has caused such a sensation along the border line between the United States and Mexico. Hatred of the rule of Mexico by President Diaz and a hope for more liberal laws is the cause for the present revolution. The interview took place in a spot the location of which is kept secret in pursuance of conditions under which the conversation took place.

Catarina Garza is a man over 6 feet in height. His hair is black and his mustache is of the same hue. But for his swarthy complexion he would be taken rather for an American than a Mexican. As the party rode up he walked out and extended his hand in true democratic fashion, showing the proportions of his well-knit figure, his pleasant face, kindly looking eyes, albeit they were restless and roving at all times. Garza speaks almost pure English, the result of his schooling at Brownville, Tex., his long residence on American soil, and connection with English-speaking people. Said he to the correspondent:

"I know the place newspapers had in public affairs, and in seeing you I simply gratify the desire to have myself placed rightly before the people of the United States. The impression prevails that I and my followers are simply an organized band of border rangers, seeking only to gratify personal ends. As nothing can be further from the truth, I rely on you to do me justice, and for this I thank you."

As He Sees Mexico's Condition.

"Before I go further let me speak briefly of the condition of affairs in the Mexican states along the Rio Grande and the southern line of the United States. At Nuevo Leon, Tamaulipas, Coahuila, and Chihuahua particularly there has been a growing discontent at the rule of Mexico. President Diaz is Mexico. He is the government, sole and entire. The slightest opposition to his will on the part of any minister or other official is followed by instant dismissal and disgrace. He does not seem to care for the good of the people or the country so long as he may gratify his own interests and vanity. During the time he has occupied the chair of president he has grown immensely wealthy. He owns thousands of acres of land, millions of dollars laid by, not only in Mexico, but in the vaults of Europe, and there is hardly a corporation or mercantile establishment in Mexico that does not owe him money. In fact, the price of a monopoly in Mexico is a block of stock in the enterprise, made out either in Diaz's name or that of a trusted lieutenant. There is a system of calumnies prevailing in Mexico which has gained him the central hatred of every good citizen and patriot.

The Revolutionary Feeling Widespread.

"The revolution which is now in progress is of greater moment than it is given credit for. Am I the leader of the movement? Well, all I can say is that I am in perfect sympathy with those who do head the movement, wherever they may be. We are strong in followers and money, and we will accomplish our ends. No I cannot say what is my following, how many men I have, or where they are stationed. This much I can say. The Mexican government knows our following is strong, and the 'unfortunate' utterances of the Mexican press are only intended to keep up the flagging courage of the half-starved military, and when the crisis comes, as it will before long, Diaz will find his forces short of fire companions, while we, in turn, will be richer by as many times."

Armed Solely at Diaz.

"I have lived twice in the United States and have too wholesome a fear and regard for the government at Washington to do anything which might bear the semblance of treason. The movement which is characterized as the Garza revolution is aimed at the head of Diaz, and unless my knowledge of Mexico and Mexicans is faulty it will eventually result in the downfall of the tyrant who is the head of government now."

DYNAMITE AT ST. LOUIS.

Miller's Bakery Demolished—Trades Union Men Suspected.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 4.—A report like the rear of artillery shook the business portion of St. Louis at 6:45 a. m. Shakes rattled in windows, panes of glass crashed as if they were an earthquake and citizens were routed out of their morning nap. The noise came from the rear of 391 South Fourth street, where the bakery of H. J. Miller was located. The rear end of that structure was knocked into smithereens by the explosion of what was supposed to be a dynamite bomb thrown against the wall.

Frank Bach, an employee, had just opened up and was making preparations for his day's work when the explosion occurred, throwing him violently to the floor in the midst of flying bricks, mortar, wood and glass. He lay there insensible and bleeding from numerous cuts. Patrolman Goetz, hearing the explosion, rushed to the scene. "As soon as I had rung for the ambulance," said he, "and picked up Bach, who seemed dazed and badly cut, I started out to hunt up the cause of the trouble. It looked to me as if a dynamite cartridge had been placed under the window by some one in the alley and then ignited."

About three years ago a strike was organized among the bakers of St. Louis. All the workmen employed in Miller's are said to be non-union men. The police think there may be some connection between these facts and the explosion, and are working on the dynamite-union theory.

PRAIRIES ABLAZE.

Oklahoma Farmers Lose Heavily by Flames.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Jan. 4.—Prairie fires have been raging for three days in Payne county, 50 miles northeast of here. For miles the fire swept everything clear and hundreds of farmers lost their fences, crops and outbuildings. S. N. Reeves, R. Austin, M. Fairchild and John Phelps lost everything, including their houses, furniture and clothing. L. Harman lost his home, and, being crippled, was himself caught in the flames and fatally burned. Several others were badly burned, and the loss to farmers aggregates many thousands of dollars. At Paradise Prairie a roaring sea of flame surrounded the schoolhouse, and the scholars and teacher fought the fire for hours, carrying water in their dinner pails. Many of them were badly burned, but they saved the building and the lives of the little ones.

Calvin and his son, Harmon, asking judgment against them for $7,300, with 6 per cent. interest from February 31, 1892, the date of the robbery. The petition charges that the defendant stole the money. William Calvin was city marshal at the time of the robbery. The case has caused a sensation. FIRE HOLDS A LEVEE

Fatal Fire in a Chicago Hotel Monday Morning.

RECORD OF MANY DISASTERS

Three Men Killed by Falling Walls at Nashville—Four Persons Perish at Hanford, Cal.

CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—The Waverly hotel, 265 Clark street, was the scene, at 2 o'clock a. m. of a slight blaze, which did the building only nominal injury, but threw the 200 guests into a panic, and resulted in number of casualties and two deaths. The worst casualties were in the family of S. F. Wood, who lived on the fifth floor with his wife, two sons and a little daughter. He and his wife, in their haste and confusion, fell down the steps from the fourth to the third floor, and were taken away unconscious and seriously injured. Paul Wood, in attempting to board the descending elevator, was caught between the cab and the first floor and crushed to death. John Meredith, in room 400, who was subject to heart disease, breathed so much smoke that he afterwards died.

AT NASHVILLE, TENN.

Brave Firemen Perish at a Big Fire on Saturday Night.

Saturday night another fire burned over the site of the fire of ten years ago, causing a loss of $25,000. The fire started in the rear of the store occupied by Webb, Stevenson & Co., house furniture, at 5:40, and was not gotten under control until 10 o'clock p. m.

Three Firemen Killed.

Three colored firemen lost their lives. They were fighting the fire at the time, standing on a three-story building occupied by Phillips, Burdett & Co. They were pouring a stream of water into the building of A. J. Warren, when it toppled over upon them, crushing them all to death. Their names are as follows: Capt. C. C. Gowdy, Stokes Allen and Harvey Ewing.

An Incendiary's Work.

There is but little doubt that the fire was of incendiary origin, as, while fighting the fire, one of the firemen saw an unknown white man deliberately set fire to Atwell & Sneed's building and immediately jump from the second story and run away in the darkness.

AT HANFORD, CAL.

Four Persons Lose Their Lives and Others Badly Burned.

HANFORD, Cal., Jan. 4.—Fire which broke out early Sunday morning destroyed $8,000 worth of property, caused the death of four persons and badly injured six others. The fire originated in the sick-room of O. D. Reed, in the two-story frame lodging house of Mrs. Kate Jacobs. Lou Woodward, who was watching with Reed, was pouring oil into a coal oil stove when the can caught fire. Failing to extinguish it with blankets she threw the blazing can into the hall, where the flames rapidly spread. The lodging-house, with the Methodist church and an adjoining dwelling, were entirely destroyed. Three men were burned to death. They were Elmer E. Spofford, of Chester, N. H.; F. B. Tucker, of Sacramento, and E. W. Foster, of the Star Nervine Company. Many of the inmates jumped from the second-story windows, receiving more or less severe injuries. T. C. Hammond, a printer, was badly burned and hurt by jumping and died a few hours afterward. Five or six others were bruised and burned, but will probably all recover.

A Costly Blaze in the Little Town of Saybrook, Ill.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Jan. 4.—About 1 o'clock Sunday morning fire broke out in the business portion of the town of Saybrook, 30 miles east of here on the Lake Erie road, and threatened to sweep away the entire business district. A message was sent to the mayor of Bloomington asking for assistance, but it was refused owing to the danger to which this city might be exposed. The fire was the most destructive that has ever visited the town. It was discovered in Mrs. Nettie Mahan's millinery store on Lincoln street and was caused by a defective gas. It swept everything on that side of the street until it was checked at Shores & Travis drug store. Thirteen buildings were destroyed in two hours. The town has no fire department and the flames were fought by a bucket brigade. The total loss is estimated at about $3,000, partially covered by insurance.

HIGHWAYMEN ROB A STAGE.

A Chicago Man Relieved of $6,000 Worth of Jewelry—Other Losses Light.

MELBA, Mont., Jan. 4.—Three highwaymen held up a stage near the Idaho line, not far from Bonner's, early Saturday night. They made a rich haul, securing about $6,000 worth of jewelry from Ed L. Huntley, representing a Chicago wholesale house. The robbers also got about $100 in cash. There were four men and two women in the stage, which was set on a low sled. No violence was necessary, as the victims were all tractable. The robbery occurred in a dense wood where there was 5 feet of snow on the ground. Huntley offers $1,000 reward for the return of the jewelry. No description could be given of the robbers, as they were fully masked.

At the time of his death in Cincinnati he weighed about 450 pounds. It required the strength of two men to bear the coffin from the wagon to the vault. No hearse large enough to carry the coffin could be secured, and so the remains were taken to the cemetery in one of the undertaker's wagons.

BLEW OPEN THE VAULT.

Burglars Rob a County Clerk's Office at Arcadia, Fla.

ARCADIA, Fla., Jan. 4.—Late Saturday afternoon the vault of the county clerk's office was blown open. The burglars drilled a hole over the combination lock and, apparently, dynamite was then inserted and exploded. The combination was shattered and the door opened. The job was evidently done by one accustomed to such work. The clerk had about $500 in the vault, which was stolen. The records and official papers have not yet been examined, and it is not known whether they are injured or not. There is no clew to the burglars.
